Pollution in Ganga

*406. SHRIMATI HEMA MALINI: Will the Minister of ENVIRONMENT AND FORESTS be pleased to state:

(a) whether Government are aware that pollution of holy river Ganga has assumed serious proportion inspite of action plans phase-l (1992-97) and Phase-ll (1995-2001);

(b) if so, the steps being considered to minimize the pollution level of the river;

(c) whether Government are considering to ask the concerned States for raising money by levying minimum user charges; and

(d) if not, the reasons therefor?

THE MINISTER OF STATE IN THE MINISTRY OF ENVIRONMENT AND FORESTS (SHRI NAMO NARAIN MEENA): (a) and (b) With the completion of the works of the Ganga Action Plan (GAP) Phase-l (1985-2000) as well as projects undertaken under GAP Phase-ll (1995 onwards) and notwithstanding the phenomenal increase in urban population leading to substantial increase in the pollution load of the river Ganga over the past years, its water quality has shown improvement at major locations over its pre-GAP quality. A tabular Statement is attached (See below).

Under the Ganga Action Plan Phase-l, pollution abatement works of Ganga river were taken up in 25 cities spread over the States of UP, Bihar
